The diagram shows a central box containing four rounded rectangles: "Integrated Online & Offline Services" at the top, "Need for Effective Digital Information Services" in the center, "Dlibrary Information Commons (Physical Space)" on the right, and "Increase of Digital Information Resources" on the left. Arrows point from the central box to each of these four rectangles. From each of these four rectangles, arrows point up to a bottom box labeled "Continuous IT Development". Additionally, there are bidirectional arrows between "Integrated Online & Offline Services" and "Need for Effective Digital Information Services", and between "Dlibrary Information Commons (Physical Space)" and "Increase of Digital Information Resources".

“Las bibliotecas digitales son sistemas que proveen a una comunidad de usuarios el acceso coherente a un gran depósito organizado de información y conocimientos, con recursos electrónicos y capacidades técnicas asociadas para crear, buscar y usar la información. El contenido incluye los datos, metadatos que describen varios aspectos de los datos -por ejemplo: representación formal, autor, dueño de los derechos de publicación, etc.- y metadatos que consisten en enlaces o relaciones con otros datos u otros metadatos, que pueden ser internos o externos a la biblioteca digital”

IN CONGRESS. JULY 4, 1776.

The unanimous Declaration of the thirteen united States of America.

When in the course of human events it becomes necessary for one people to dissolve the political bands which have connected them with another, and to assume among the powers of the earth, the separate and equal station to which the laws of Nature and of Nature's God entitle them; a decent respect to the opinions of mankind requires that they should declare the causes which impel them to the separation. — We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal; that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable Rights; that among these are Life, Liberty and the pursuit of Happiness. — That to secure these rights, Governments are instituted among Men, deriving their just power from the consent of the governed. — That whenever any Form of Government becomes destructive of these ends, it is the Right of the People to alter or to abolish it, and to institute a new Government, laying its foundation on such Principles, and organizing its Powers in such form, as to them shall seem most likely to effect their Safety and Happiness. — But when a long train of abuses and usurpations, pursuing exclusively the same Object evinces a design to reduce the people under absolute Despotism, it is their right, it is their duty, to throw off such Government, and to provide new Guards for their future security. — Such has been the patient sufferance of these Colonies; and such is now the necessity which renders them to alter their former Systems of Government. — The history of the present King of Great Britain is a history of repeated injuries and usurpations, all having in direct object the establishment of an absolute Tyranny over these States. — He has refused his Assent to Laws, the most wholesome and necessary for the public good. — He has forbidden his Governors to pass Laws of immediate and pressing importance, unless suspended in their operation till his Assent should be obtained; and when so suspended, he has utterly neglected to attend to them. — He has refused to pass other Laws for the accommodation of large districts of people, and when so passed would retard the right of Representation in the Legislature, so as to injure and oppress the people only. — He has called together legislative Bodies at places unusual, inconvenient, and distant from the Depository of their Public Records, for the sole Purpose of preventing their inspection with due care. — He has obstructed the Legislation for erecting an Amicable Society for the Propagation of the Gospel in Foreign Parts, by offering into every Assembly resolutions on the rights of the people. — He has refused for along time, after such Acquisitions to cause them to be staled, exciting the Legislative Furies, susceptible of Interruption, have denied to the People at large for their service, the late summing up in the same time required to all the damages of Suspension from without, and accusations within. — He has endeavored to prevent the Population of these States, for that purpose obstructing the Law for Naturalization of Aliens, refusing his Assent to measures for encouraging their migration hither, and raising the conditions of new Acquisitions of Land. — He has obstructed the Administration of Justice, by refusing his Assent to Laws for establishing Judiciary Courts. — He has made Judges dependent on him, in the Trial, both of their Cases, and the Award and Payment of their Causes. — He has created a multitude of New Offices, and sent various persons of Affairs to have over People, and not at their pleasure. — He has kept among us, in times of peace, Standing Armies without the Consent of our Legislature. — He has affected to render the Military independent of, and superior to, the Civil Power. — He has combined with others to subject us to a jurisdiction foreign to our Constitution, and unacknowledged by our Laws, giving his Assent to their Acts of pretended Legislation. — Hisquinching Laws by holding several Courts among us. — For publishing Laws by a Commission from themselves for any Distress which they should incur in the Inhabitants of these States. — His cutting off our Trade with all parts of the world. — For depriving us in many cases of the Benefits of Trial by Jury. — For suspending and pro-
